Where to Buy Tickets and Packages

Regular admission to SeaWorld is $97 for ages 3 and up, however many specials, packages and discounts are offered. Visitors can save $10 right off the bat by purchasing their ticket online. Weekday tickets are just $70 per person, and a combination ticket for SeaWorld and Aquatica is $99. Adding a third day at Busch Gardens in Tampa only bumps up the ticket price to $119 for all three attractions. In addition, prices to SeaWorld's premium park, Discovery Cove, can range from the $200s to the $400 range, but admission to SeaWorld and Aquatica are included. In other words, guests are encouraged to visit as many SeaWorld parks as possible, and in doing so, they'll be rewarded by the price.

Note: parking charges do apply.

Where to Eat

SeaWorld Orlando offers many dining options, most of which are clustered around the waterfront and offer the typical theme-park fare like hot dogs, hamburgers and barbecue. For $35.99 adults can purchase an all-you-can-eat-and-drink dining package that's good at six of SeaWorld's restaurants, which is definitely a savings if you're planning to be there all day. Two premium-dining options are also offered, including Dine With Shamu and Shark's Underwater Grill. Shark's is a cool, sit-down restaurant with table-to-ceiling aquarium views and the park's only full-service bar. Entrees range from $29 grilled mahi mahi to $36, 14-ounce ribeye or ahi tuna with loaded mashed potatoes and seasonal vegetables. If you're planning to save money, small coolers are allowed inside the park, but only with snacks, bottled water and baby food.

Where to Stay

Unlike Walt Disney World and Universal Orlando Resort, SeaWorld does not have any hotels right on property. However, SeaWorld does partner with seven nearby hotels, several of which are within walking distance, and all provide special perks like a free Quick Queue pass, free shuttle and a free Behind-the-Scenes Tour included with the stay. Official hotel partners are the DoubleTree, Renaissance Orlando, Hilton Garden Inn, Residence Inn, Hilton Grand Vacations, Fairfield Inn and Springhill Suites. SeaWorld Orlando is located in the heart of the tourism corridor nearby restaurants, nightlife, shopping and entertainment on International Drive.

Enjoy & have a nice stay!
